

CHAIN OF RESPONSIBILITY

Chain of Responsibility (CoR) is focused on road safety and enhancing the safe operation of all vehicles to the benefit of the community, the environment and fair trading practices.

As a Registered Training Organisation, The Barbaro Group (BG) offers training for the following nationally accredited Units of Competence:

- TLIF0001- Apply CoR legislation, regulations and workplace procedures
This course is designed to heighten the awareness of all persons that are likely to come into contact with the legislative requirements. It provides insight into the requirements and it affects different roles within the supply chain.
- TLIF0002- Administer CoR policies and procedures
This training aims at developing the knowledge of supervisors and coordinators so they are able to identify their responsibilities and contribute to the development and implementation of workplace practices to meet compliance.
- TLIF0003- Develop and implement policies and procedures to ensure CoR compliance
A complete overview of CoR is provided in this course so that senior levels in business gain an understanding of CoR requirements and the implications of non-compliance. It also provides guidance on how to achieve and maintain compliance.

BG has the capability to deliver this training at our venue or we can mobilise a trainer to any location to conduct training at our clients' premises.

Training consists of a classroom based theory component that incorporates practical examples and in class activities. Each participant is also required to complete a Practical Workplace Application (PWA).

The assessment process for these courses include in class activities, a short answer written assessment and the PWA. The PWA is a mandatory part of the assessment process to be completed by each participant, in their workplace, in order to be issued with a Statement of Attainment for accredited training.

All required resources will be provided by BG.
